Note on OS X Function Keys

OS X keyboards use Fn keys as special keys for the operating system as part of the default System Preferences (F1 Reduce Display Brightness, F4 Launchpad, F10 Mute Sound, etc.). This setting can be changed under System Preferences > Keyboard > [Keyboard] and clicking the radio button next to "Use all F1, F2, etc. keys as standard Fn keys". Enabling this radio button means that the Fn Key will only be required to use the Fn keys to Reduce Display Brightness (Fn + F1), open Launchpad (Fn + F4), Mute Sound (Fn + F10), etc. Aqua Data Studio keyboard shortcuts that have Fn keys will not need the addition of the Fn modifier Key. In Aqua Data Studio the shortcut Fn + Ctrl + Alt + F7 would then F7.

become Ctrl + Alt
